Multiplying Leaders for the Great Hispanic Harvest

News from Janine Fox

November/December 2017

Dear Supporters,

God has used your prayers and financial support in great ways this year. God has blessed me beyond what I could imagine. He allowed me to serve at a church across the street from Ebenezer Bible College and Seminary in various capacities and has strengthened me and given me wisdom for teaching. He provided me with another computer (my previous one broke down) which has helped a lot with teaching. He has given me many opportunities to serve with music, especially around the Christmas season. He allowed me to go home for about two weeks to see my family in Illinois and some relatives in California, and now He has brought me back to Hermosillo, and we are at the start of a new semester.

Thanksgiving is something that is not celebrated in Mexico, but there is a tradition at the Bible College where some faculty members will invite students and other faculty members to their houses for a Thanksgiving meal. We enjoyed a great time of food, fellowship, and testimonies. God has truly blessed me the past year, and for that I am thankful.

December was full of activities and musical opportunities as Christmas approached. First there were student recitals for the music students on December 4. My piano and voice students each played their pieces, as well as the students of the other music teachers, and I played violin. I have enjoyed the opportunity to learn a new instrument and look forward to another semester of studying violin. God has allowed me to play the violin in the church services when I am not playing piano. On the 10th, there was the annual Christmas cantata, for which I played the piano. The adult choir participated, and there was a drama and a children's choir which also sang a couple numbers which they had been practicing diligently all semester on Wednesday nights (I accompanied on the piano). I enjoyed being the pianist for the program. The following Sunday, the Bible club where I teach music had their own little program at church where they sang a Christmas hymn they had practiced and quoted a Bible verse about Jesus' birth. Several family members of the children, who otherwise might not attend church, came to hear their children sing, and they got to hear the preaching as well. On the following Tuesday, there was the Christian elementary school Christmas program, for which I played the piano. Finally, that Friday the 22nd, there was the third annual winter concert which takes place to raise funds for the Christian school. I had the privilege of singing both in a quintet and a solo, as well as accompany the elementary school choir. It was great to see so many people from the community come. The gospel was preached right before the concert. Please pray for God to work in the hearts of those who came for salvation.

I am so thankful that God allowed me to go home for Christmas this year. I was a little too excited to see snow and more excited to be with my family. I even got to see some of my dad's family in California. God is good to allow us to have such breaks and to spend time with loved ones.
