March Newsletter

It is always a blessing to see former students who are faithfully serving the Lord. In February, Dan saw several pastors in Sinaloa, Mexico, who were former students of ours. In March, we were able to see Josué Guzmán, whom Dan mentored into the academic dean position at Ebenezer Bible College and Seminary in Hermosillo, Sonora, Mexico. Josué flew up to Greenville, SC, to take a block course as part of his PhD program at BJU Seminary. Our family took Josué over to a neighboring Spanish church while he was in town, and it was a blessing for us to sit under his preaching for a day.

MGMI regional staff/missionary conference. From March 11-14, a regional conference in Greenville, SC was held for MGMI missionaries who are involved in Hispanic church planting on the US East Coast. MGMI missionaries in NY, GA, and SC (along with Gail Ereddia, our Home Office Manager) met for four days to strategize, pray, and fellowship. Throughout those days, many who have been connected to MGMI's ministries came for fellowship. A couple of people who are seeking the Lord's direction regarding future ministry were special guests at some of the sessions.

One major highlight of the conference was when MGMI missionaries Bacilio and Eunice Alfaro, who were unable to make the conference in person, connected to the conference online to give a report on their health as well as on their new Hispanic church plant in GA. We also took time to congratulate them on 50 YEARS WITH MGMI! Go to <https://youtu.be/Y0qpNRFGpY?si=0yWEYAgNQk6FNVTe> to see the 46-minute tribute video that was put together to honor the Alfaro family for their five decades of service with MGMI. Special thanks to Faith Baptist Church in Taylors, SC, for providing us with a place to meet, and to members of FBC who helped the staff conference be the success that it was.

Prayer requests.

1. Travels. Next on our itinerary: Dan and Opal will travel to a missions conference in West Virginia.
2. MGMI is looking for a bilingual staff evangelist/recruiter to represent MGMI at churches and colleges to share about opportunities for missionary service throughout Latin America and to the ever-growing Hispanic population in the US. MGMI is also looking for additional bilingual Home Office missionary staff to handle areas related to translation, finances, communications, and other aspects of administration, addressing ever-growing ministry opportunities that the Lord has been providing. Please pray that the Lord would lead Dan as he speaks to those whom the Lord has been preparing for these positions, and that the Lord would provide the support for these upcoming missionary roles.

Thank you for your prayers!

Dan, Opal, Anna, Abby, Daniel and Rose Wokaty
