November 2021

Ministering “virtually” throughout Latin America. The Lord continues to open opportunities to minister throughout Latin America, even when we are not traveling!

1. In November, Dr. Ken Casillas, Mark Vowels, and Dan spoke at a webinar/conference on preparing leaders for the next generation. Because of conditions related to Covid, the conference was held virtually through Zoom. Approximately sixty leaders attended online from Argentina, Chile, and Uruguay.
2. From December 6-11, Seminario Bautista Logos, an online seminary that prepares Spanish-speaking students throughout Latin America, will host an online conference. Dan is one of the speakers and will speak on the topic of the authority of the Scriptures. Several of the other speakers are men with whom Dan has ministered previously.
3. In December, Dan will teach a virtual block course for the faculty of a seminary in Peru.
4. Starting in January, Dan will teach both Methods of Teaching and Hermeneutics online for a college in Mexico.
5. From March to June, Dan will teach a virtual course for a college in Uruguay.
6. Dan continues to teach Philosophy of Education this semester for an online college in Mexico.

Apart from the above online ministry opportunities, in the first quarter of 2022 Dan will be traveling to Mexico two times and to Peru once to teach and preach. Please pray that these upcoming opportunities will be used for God’s glory and the edification of believers throughout the Spanish-speaking world.

Opportunities to share about TEAM Mobile Seminary. For the past several weeks, we have been visiting churches, and we are grateful for the opportunity to share about our ministry in different ways. Not uncommon, in two recent visits Opal became the impromptu pianist for the services!

Praise. One of the remaining items that we needed for our home-made recording studio was a mixer. Recently, we were having a conversation with someone and that needed item came up. The person “happened” to have an extra one that he promptly gave to us!

The Family Corner. In October, Rose attended her first “College Up Close” visit to BJU as a prospective student. The kids are past their midterms and are diligently working on the second part of the semester. We are grateful for a generous couple who donated to Anna and Abby’s school bills!

Thank you for your prayers!
